Subject: MVRACES Golden Guardian ALERT: 7.8 Earthquake Struck Along San Andreas Fault - THIS IS A DRILL

“ There are reports of hundreds of fires actively burning in several Operational Area jurisdictions, including three conflagrations in Los Alamitos, La Palma, and to a lesser degree, Huntington Beach.

There are numerous hazardous material issues. Gas pipelines have been ruptured throughout these areas and services are partially suspended. Seventy-five to eighty percent of streets and highways are still passable.

Los Alamitos RACES field operators were mobilized today at 14:35 to report to their Incident Commander “how big” and “how bad” damage is to the city and surrounding areas!

There are no major issues reported in South County at this time, although the Operational Area is soliciting status updates from all other jurisdictions. “
